A Clever Counterfeiter at Work in the Penitentiary.

SHROUDED IN MYSTERY

Official of the Institution Declines to Discuss the Matter—Attorney General Files Brief in Mathews County Case—Grover Cleveland Passed Through Richmond—Supreme Court Proceedings—Historic Church Robbed.

(Special to Virginian-Pilot.)

Richmond, Va., Jan. 24.—The remarkable statement is made that there is a clever counterfeiter at work within the walls of the Virginia penitentiary producing nickels so perfect that any one would accept them without a question. The counterfeiter is a negro, and his method, though simple, is decidedly clever. He is employed by the Davis Shoe Company, so had no difficulty in securing two pieces of sole leather. He placed a nickel between them and by strong pressure secured a mould.

In some manner he secured possession of a piece of metal, and melted it over the small oil stove which is allowed each prisoner.

OFFICIAL IS SILENT.

An official of the penitentiary to-day declined to discuss the matter, saying that to do so would be to lose his job.

MATHEWS COUNTY CASE.

Attorney-General Montague has filed his brief for defendant in error, in the case of R. J. Morgan against the Commonwealth. This case is from the Circuit Court of Mathews county, and the charge at issue is that of unlawfully fishing with a pound net. On the first trial Morgan was found guilty, and a fine of $25 was imposed. Mr. J. N. Stubbs, of Gloucester, is counsel for Morgan.

CLEVELAND IN RICHMOND.

Grover Cleveland passed through Richmond on his way home last night. He has been for the last ten or twelve days at Georgetown, S. C., duck hunting. He seems to have enjoyed the trip, looks fine, and triumphant. Ducks could not withstand his onslaught. He breathed Richmond air for only about twenty minutes last night, and that from a car window. He arrived on the Atlantic Coast Line train at 8 o'clock and in twenty minutes was speeding on his way to his home at Princeton, N. J.

THE SUPREME COURT.

The proceedings in the Virginia Supreme Court to-day were as follows: Taylor et al. vs. S. Clair et al.; further argued by J. C. Wyster for appellants and submitted. Adkins vs. City of Richmond. Argued by S. S. Patterson for plaintiff in error, and H. R. Pollard for defendant in error and continued until tomorrow.

HISTORIC CHURCH ROBBERED.

Historic Monumental Church, which commemorates the famous and deplorable burning of the Richmond Theatre years ago, was entered by thieves last night. Windows were broken and doors smashed, but the silver service was in a secret place, and nothing of great value was carried off.

CAPE CHARLES.

BAPTIST CONVENTION—PERSONAL AND GENERAL NOTES.

(Special to Virginian-Pilot.)

Cape Charles, Va., Jan. 24.—A Baptist convention will be held in the Union Baptist Church of Chincoteague January 25th, 27th and 28th, on which occasion that church will be formally dedicated to the service of God. The following is an outline of the program to be followed: Pastoral conference at 4 p. m. 25th; Saturday, 27th, missionary topics will be discussed, Revs. J. L. King and T. S. Dunaway addressing the convention at 10 a. m. on the Sunday School and Bible Board; at 2:30 p. m. the question of State Missions will be discussed by Rev. J. W. Reams, of Bayview, and Rev. P. H. Pernell, of Eastville; at 7 p. m. the subject of Foreign Missions will be considered by Revs. G. W. Hurt and Charles Clements. Sunday, 28th, dedicatory sermon at 10 a. m. by Rev. M. F. Sanford; dedicatory prayer by Rev. G. W. Hurt; at 2 p. m. Home Missions will be discussed by Revs. S. U. Grimsley and C. L. Corbitt; at 7 p. m. a sermon will be preached by Rev. Walter Rhodes, after which a history of the Union Baptist Church will be sketched by its pastor, Rev. D. P. Sanderlin.

This meeting is attracting considerable attention as a religious gathering, and will be attended by a large number of Shore people.

"TO BE, OR NOT TO BE."

The good citizens of Chincoteague, who claim for their town a population of 2,000, are just now agitated over the question of incorporation. As is usual in such cases, an acceptable "hog law" is a disturbing factor among the knotty problems to be solved, and has entered largely into the arena of discussion. Meantime, as the sands in the life of our Legislative body are fast disappearing, the chances are that the laudable ambition of our aspiring little legislator will fall of recognition, and that her present humble position will remain in status quo for at least two years more. A PLEASANT PARTY.

At the hospitable home of Capt. Thomas Parsons, on Mason avenue, a very pleasant little party was held Tuesday night, at which music, social games and elegant refreshments were uppermost with all, and all present had a glorious time. Among the number present were Miss Julia Kirwin, Miss Meta Walker, Miss Edna Sterling, Miss Rose Kirwin and Mrs. McKown; and Messrs. R. W. Mapp, Anthony Roberts and Edgar Nottingham.

TOLD IN A PARAGRAPH.

Mr. John W. Carroll, editor of the Light newspaper here, returned this morning from Philadelphia. Mr. Carroll was chief clerk in the office of the late Col. R. H. Nicholas, and faithfully remained at the bedside of his esteemed friend till the final summons came, removing his spirit from its tenement of clay.

Mr. Clarence G. Smithers, chief dispatcher here of the New York, Philadelphia and Norfolk railroad, left last night for Baltimore, to participate in the obsequies of the late Col. R. H. Nicholas, which take place to-day.

The oldest inhabitant in this neck of the woods fails to remember as fine January weather as we have had nearly all this month. Yesterday was ideal, and likewise to-day—a bright, warm sun, dry sidewalks and surroundings lovely, bringing out lady cyclists, baby carriages, and even enfeebled invalids, to promenade on the streets.

Miss Lucy Rodgers and Miss Marye Byrd, of Kellar, are in Northampton county visiting the family of Mr. Hunt, near Dalby.

A pleasant reception was given Monday night at the home of Mr. Arthur Hunt, near Dalby, a large number of young people from the neighborhood participating in the gaiety and pleasures of the occasion. Cape Charles had a couple of representatives present in the persons of Messrs. Joseph Boggs and George Duke.

Mr. R. C. Brennan, constable in this district, is housed up with a stubborn attack of grip.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Godwin have issued cards announcing the prospective marriage of their daughter, Miss Della M. Godwin, to Mr. John W. Churn. The wedding will occur on Wednesday afternoon, January 31, 1900, in Johnson's M. E. Church, South, Northampton county.

A family in Belle Haven has a cat for a mascot, its age spanning over a period of thirty years.

Mrs. A. L. Wise went up to Pocomoke City this morning to superintend the completion of the monument she is having constructed there to be placed at her husband's grave in Cape Charles Cemetery.

E. J. Spady, Esq., a prominent lawyer of the Eastville bar, was seen on our streets this morning.

Mr. George Richardson, of Mathews county, came over to the Shore last week on a visit to friends in Chincoteague.

John R. Floyd, of Accomac, crossed the bay last night to visit relatives in Berkley.

John W. Westcott will soon occupy his new dwelling erected on that portion of the "Blackhouse Farm," which he now owns. He has made it a splendid home, situated about a mile from Nassawadox Station.

Dr. Washington Hunt, of Newport News, has been on the Shore this week visiting relatives at Dalby.

E. C. Richardson, now in the drug business at Belle Haven, is visiting friends in Cape Charles this week. Mr. Richardson was the predecessor of Dr. Kellam, here in the same line of business.

Dr. P. A. Fitzhugh, who has changed his residence to the seaside, near Eastville, has been in Cape Charles all week packing his library for shipment to his new home.

Rolle Moore and P. F. Powell, of Philadelphia; J. Danforth Busch, Wilmington, Del.; Charles R. Wooten, Easton, Md.; Dr. S. S. Williams, Salisbury, Md.; George Zeigler and W. C. Harding, Baltimore; J. F. Busheller, Irvington, Va., and A. D. Pender, Norfolk, Va., are at the Cape Charles.

ROANOKE.

TO COMPLETE RAILWAY—A NEW BANK.

Roanoke, Va., Jan. 24.—The statement that the Norfolk and Western had bought the unfinished railroad from Abington, Va., to Damascus, Va., is erroneous. The probabilities are that this road will be completed by a syndicate outside of the Norfolk and Western, and made up of the Empire Lumber and Mining Company, of Philadelphia; the Shaefer estate, of Pottsville, Pa.; and the Douglas Company, of New York. This syndicate has been organized by W. E. Mingea, division freight agent of the Norfolk and Western, who has been elected president and general manager of the reorganized Virginia-Carolina Railway, George F. Craig, of Philadelphia, being vice-president and treasurer. The road would open extensive and rich territory and bring large additional business to the Norfolk and Western.

While in charge of the industrial department of the Norfolk and Western Mr. Mingea has, in connection with his regular duties as division freight agent, promoted during the past year several good enterprises in addition to this one, including the $350,000 pulp mill now being built at Bristol, one or more lumber companies, assisted the Roanoke Cotton Mill in its start, and is now working on a shoe factory, a tannery and several other industries.

The New Century Banking and Safe Deposit Company, of this city, has been organized with a capital of $100,000. The new concern will do a general banking business and will be able to handle paper which the national banks cannot touch.

"A Grand Remedy," Says Mr. Thornton.

"I have been suffering with indigestion and dyspepsia. I tried all the remedies as well as several eminent physicians, with no avail. I was induced to try Tyner's Dyspepsia Remedy and the first dose relieved me. It is a grand remedy. I recommend it as worthy of a trial by all who wish to be cured."

(Special to Virginian-Pilot.)

Suffolk, Va., Jan. 24.—The little town of Holland, whose commercial progress has been steady for the past few years, is soon to have a chartered lumber company. Circuit Judge Prentiss has granted a charter of incorporation to the Enterprise Lumber Company, whose main office will be at Holland.

Whitley, now pastor of the First Methodist Church in Hampton, Va.; two granddaughters, Misses Mary E. and Annie M. Whitley, and by a half-sister, Miss Catherine Skeeter. Mrs. Cathon was the oldest member of the Suffolk Baptist Church. The funeral service will be held at that church to-morrow (Thursday) afternoon at 3 o'clock, the pastor, Rev. J. F. Love, officiating. In her death the community has lost a faithful, kind-hearted Christian woman, whose deeds of charity will cause her to be long and gratefully remembered.

JUNE APPLES IN JANUARY.

Councilman John C. Holladay tonight brought to this office some red streaked June apples. They were a second growth pulled from his trees in Suffolk, at Holland and Bank streets. The trees bore a liberal crop last summer, and the fruit now being harvested is the product of blooms which came late in the fall. The apples are not large, but they have the smell and taste of summer June apples. They are ripe.

A CUBAN HONEYMOON.

There will be a swell marriage in Franklin, Va., on the 29th, next Monday. The principals are to be Miss Besse Atkinson, daughter of Mrs. Vesuvius Atkinson, and Herbert Norfleet, of Havana, Cuba. There will be an elaborate reception, concluding which they will start for Cuba.

GABLE MESSAGE OF DEFIANCE

The Director of the Figaro to the Count de Castellane, Anna Gould's Husband.

COUNT BONI DE CASTELLANE, ANNA GOULD'S HUSBAND.

Paris, Jan. 24.—M. Ferdinand de Rodays has sent to the Count de Castellane the following cable message, which the Figaro says, from a sense of propriety which Castellane did not observe in despatches to that journal, it did not render public until after he had received it:

"Comte de Castellane, Waldorf-Astoria, New York:

"Your denials and your menaces will change nothing of the facts, which are now of public notoriety in Paris.

"If the Figaro took notice of what is termed your discomfiture it is justified therein by the campaign of defamation and insult which you have inspired without provocation against it in the paper of which you are the proprietor. "I hope you will succeed in getting out of the affair, and on your return I reserve to myself the right to tell you what I think of 'disloyalty.' Your attitude regards a journal and a journalist who had never been anything but kind to you and your vis-a-vis, while you have never shown anything but ingratitude.

"FERDINAND DE RODAYS, "Director of Figaro."

CAUCUS BEHIND CLOSED DOORS

this morning decided to report favorably the bill to abolish the Eighteenth Judicial Circuit, now presided over by Judge Dupuy. Long arguments were heard on either side of the question.

OF INTEREST TO DOCTORS.

The Senate Committee on General Laws this morning considered Senator Harvey's three bills to amend the existing laws in relation to the practice of medicine and surgery in this State. Several material changes are made, the general object being to stop up all loopholes whereby quacks or incompetent persons may secure the right to practice. One change proposed is to require applicants for examination by the State Board to exhibit a certificate of graduation from some reputable college.

The bills have the approval of the Medical Society of Virginia. Drs. B. C. Williams, Hugh M. Taylor, J. Allison Hodges and A. S. Priddy spoke in behalf of the measures, as did Senator Harvey. Senator Bruce opposed the provision to require applicants for examination to be graduates of colleges, but failed to secure an amendment. The bills were ordered to be reported favorably.

PURE FOOD BILL.

The Committee on General Laws reported favorably Senator Glass' pure food bill, and fixed the Barksdale act, to punish persons who entice servants away from their employers, for hearing Saturday.
